

Laissez Les Bon Temps Rouler with SLTA

Join us in New Orleans!

We invite you to join us at Southeast Land Title Association's 51st Annual Convention at the beautiful Hotel Monteleone in New Orleans, Louisiana, French Quarter. This year's convention will be held September 14—16, 2017.

We are excited to be back in New Orleans, and we have a jam-packed schedule of food, fun, and education planned for you! Attending the SLTA Annual Convention is a wonderful way to network with your peers and get up-to-date information on current trends in the industry.

This year's program will include a Masquerade Party, Dinner and Entertainment at the World War II Museum, and six hours of continuing education credits, including ethics.

Masquerade Party

Thursday evening will be your chance to dress up in your craziest Mardi Gras attire and have fun in the French Quarter. We have the balcony of the Bourbon Orleans Hotel reserved for our party. We'll have masks, beads to throw, plenty of cocktails and food, and prizes of $100 cash will be given for the "Tackiest Costume" and "Best Costume". Be prepared to kick off the fun in New Orleans that night.

Dinner & Show at World War II Museum

Join us for some SLTA Lagniappe and specialty cocktails with a program honoring our veterans at the hotel before leaving by bus to the World War II Museum on Friday evening. We will enjoy dinner and a show performed by the Victory Belles at the museum. Take some time to visit the museum during the afternoon; then join us for the evening events.

Things to Do

There are so many different things to do in New Orleans, you will have to plan ahead so that you can see at least some of the items on your list. Here are a few to consider. Most of these are free. Remember the New Orleans street car runs from Canal Street all the way down St. Charles to the river.
